

Dear Parents and Carers

12 December 2020

You may already be aware that the Government announced yesterday that from Monday anyone who is self-isolating can now return to work or school after 10 days.

I wrote to you earlier this week to explain that a significant number of staff have been asked to self-isolate. This new rule now means that the vast majority of the staff can now return to work from Tuesday 15th December.

This means that from Tuesday 15th December all year groups can return to school as normal. They will all follow the normal timetable until the end of term.

I know that this unexpected change to arrangements will be disruptive to plans that you have made, but I am pleased we can get back to normality albeit only for a few days before the end of term.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank parents, carers and students for their support during these difficult times. I will be writing to you again in the coming days about our new timetable and plans for after Christmas.

Yours sincerely

Keith Howard
