

It has been a scorching week with temperatures the highest we've seen all year and despite not being able to use the air-conditioning we have managed to keep the classrooms relatively cool. Let's hope this lovely weather continues – albeit slightly cooler perhaps – into the summer holidays. On Thursday afternoon the Year 6 and Key Worker children were on the field practising their yoga moves from earlier in the year. The Tree Pose (pictured on the right) was one of the many the children had a go at.

We are sending out a separate letter regarding transition sessions for pupils in Years 2-5. As you will read we have set up a session for each of these year groups to be able to meet their teacher for next year on one of the last two days of term. For children who will be in Class 4 next year, this will be their first time officially meeting Mr Dix. He has been in school on a few afternoons this term already preparing for September and has some exciting ideas for the class. We are looking at planning some form of opening assembly for all pupils and parents at the beginning of term, should Government rules allow it by then, to welcome the children back to school and to give you a chance to meet our new Class 4 teacher/Head of School.

The children in school had a chance to meet our new vicar this week. Rev Adam Pitt came to introduce himself to each group on Thursday morning and ended up talking about sea creatures with Reception and the insects in the Church with Year 6! We are planning for a small service at St John's on the afternoon of the last day of term (Wednesday 15th July) for Year 6 and will let parents of that year group know more nearer the time. The rest of the school are looking forward to seeing more of Adam next year, who is certainly going to bring a lot of energy to our collective worships.

Finally, all the teachers have been working on school reports over the last few weeks. These are similar to other years but will have a few slight changes which we will explain. The reports are due to be sent out on July 10th. We will also be setting up our annual parent questionnaire but this year through Google Forms, which should be going live at the end of next week.
