Dear Parents and Carers,

School Values and Survey Results

In our assemblies recently, we have been talking about how we want our school to be; what we believe in and what we want our values to be. The staff and the children have decided that the values that best capture our ethos are Kindness, Fairness and Respect. These values help encourage our children to make positive choices and underpin our behaviour policy. The children can remember these values easily and, indeed, remind each other of their importance.

Our previous values: ambition, community, confidence and resilience and equal opportunity remain important and are significant in driving our curriculum and the provision that we offer children in our school. However, I hope you will agree that the values Kindness, Fairness and Respect are important values, easy to remember and to understand, and will continue to ensure that our school is a happy place to be. Please do speak to your child(ren) at home and ask them about our values to help reinforce their understanding.

Thank you to our parents and carers for completing our survey this week. Your feedback is important to help us evaluate our strengths and identify areas for development. We are delighted that 100% of respondents said that their child felt safe in school. The full results of the survey are available on our website: <https://www.midsomernortonschoolspartnership.com/uploads/files/parent-survey-2021.pdf>.

Best wishes,

Alun Randell
