

Thank you to everyone who attended parents meetings this week. If you were unable to attend for any reason, please contact your child's class teacher to reschedule.

All classes this week have been busy preparing their art work and poetry ready to display at the Bulb Show next week. Any entries for the show can be brought into school next Friday or at 11am on the day of the show. Please ensure your child's name and class is written on any entry.

Our quest to set up a library in school continues. On Monday we took delivery of 500 new books, a wide range which include picture books, non-fiction, graphic novels, popular series, poetry and prize winning novels - all of which are inclusive and reflect life in today's society. Our librarians have been busy auditing and categorising each book - we can't wait to share them with the rest of the school!

And finally, wishing Mr Rideout a big Happy Birthday tomorrow.

Mrs Cowgill and Mr Turull
