CHRISTIAN VALUE OF THE TERM: PEACE

Message from the Headteacher

What a wonderful and joy filled week it has been in school. Throughout Advent we are following the Diocese Advent resources, looking at the joy that the Christmas story gives us all. On Tuesday we had a very special online collective worship led by the Bishop, joining over 7,000 other children across Bath and Wells. It was inspiring to feel part of such a large and connected community.

On Wednesday our Year 2 pupils delighted us with their Carols by Candlelight, a truly beautiful service that brought the spirit of Christmas to the forefront of our minds. On Thursday, Reception's Nativity was absolutely lovely, and we could not be prouder of the children. They performed with such confidence, joy and enthusiasm. Their hard work and excitement shone through from start to finish.

To round off the week, the PTA hosted Elfridges, giving children the opportunity to choose and buy gifts for their families - always a highlight and a lovely way to encourage thoughtfulness and generosity.

Hope you all have a lovely weekend.

Mrs West-Gaul

Reading in Year Two

Our text focus in reading and literacy has been The Search for Carmella by Chloe Savage. The story follows a scientist called Dr Rose who goes to search in the depth of the ocean for the mythical creature named Carmella.

This week we have created our own mythical sea creatures for Dr Rose to search for when we write our narrative.

We have also written a setting description of the ocean using clips from Blue Planet to help us immerse ourselves into what the ocean looks like from a submarine.

Thought of the Week

Thought of the Week

'And there were shepherds living out in the fields nearby...An angel of the Lord appeared to them, and the glory of the Lord shone around them, and they were terrified..."Do not be afraid. I bring you good news that will cause great joy for all the people. Today...a Saviour has been born to you...This will be a sign to you: You will find a baby wrapped in cloths and lying in a manger."' (Luke 2:8-12)

The Annunciation To The Shepherds - Nicolaes Pietersz Berchem (c.1630)

Seeing Shepherds - Daniel Bonnell (2011)

With this part of the Christmas story, I am reminded again that God didn't send the angels to tell King Herod or the important leaders or the chief priests about the birth of the Messiah, the angels were sent to tell shepherds. These would have been very poor men who were shunned by society. People saw them as the lowest of the low and they were considered as unclean because of the work they did. They spent all their time with dirty smelly sheep, their manure, their blood from cuts and scrapes and the insects that buzzed around them. They were never considered clean enough to worship with God's people and were generally treated as outsiders.

What a wonderful thing it is that God saw them as worthy and welcomed them to come and witness the birth of Jesus. Jesus went on in his lifetime to specialise in welcoming people who were considered as unclean and unwelcomed by others. Those who were ignored and ostracised were now included and accepted.

What a message this is. For Christians around the world, they know that whoever they are and whatever they've done, God sent Jesus to be born and later to be crucified, to take their place in dying for the wrong things they have done and continue to do. It now means everyone is welcome to spend their life reconciled with him.

Surely the idea that everyone, no matter what, is welcomed and accepted is the true meaning of Christmas?
